Return Reference	Explanation
Form 990, Part I, Line 1	The American Board of Pediatrics (ABP) exists to advocate for and improve the health of children as they grow from infants to young adults by setting standards for pediatric practice and supporting the efforts of physicians to understand and embrace advances in medical care. The ABP does this by ongoing design and execution of an initial certification examination to licensed pediatricians who have completed a pediatric residency and/or fellowship, and design of further activities and examinations to allow pediatricians to maintain their certification.

Form 990, Part III, Line 1	The American Board of Pediatrics (ABP) certifies general pediatricians and pediatric subspecialists based on standards of excellence that lead to high quality health care for infants, children, and adolescents. ABP certification provides assurance to the public that a general pediatrician or pediatric subspecialist has successfully completed accredited training and fulfills the continuous evaluation requirements that encompass the six core competencies: patient care, medical knowledge, practice-based learning and improvement, interpersonal and communication skills, professionalism, and systems-based practice. The ABP's quest for excellence is evident in its rigorous evaluation process and in new initiatives undertaken that not only continually improve the standards of its certification but also advance the science, education, study and practice of pediatrics.

Form 990, Part III, Line 4a	Initial certification in general pediatrics, board certification is a voluntary process that goes above and beyond state licensing requirements for practicing medicine. It is an ongoing commitment by a physician to continually update their knowledge in a medical specialty, like pediatrics. Since it began certifying pediatricians in 1934 through December 31, 2016, the ABP has certified 118,292 pediatricians. Of the 4,401 physicians who took the general pediatrics certification exam in October 2017, 3,499 passed, which results in a 79.5 percent pass rate. To become certified, a physician must complete an accredited residency training program in pediatrics. The director of that training program must verify that the physician is competent in all areas of practice, and then the physician is allowed to take the initial certifying exam. In addition, before a physician is allowed to take the initial certifying examination he/she must also hold a valid, unrestricted license to practice medicine. Once they have passed the initial examination, they are deemed certified in pediatrics by the ABP. (See 4c below for how certification is maintained.)

990 Schedule O, Supplemental Information

Return Reference	Explanation
Form 990, Part VI, Section B, Line 15	In 1988, the ABP began engaging an independent compensation and benefit consulting firm to assist in determining annual compensation for all ABP staff, including the President. The compensation strategy designed for the ABP emphasizes pay for performance and is based upon the systematic slotting of each ABP staff position on a graded scale. Pay for each grade is then determined by comparing each of the positions to a comparable position in the appropriate marketplace i.e. local, regional or national depending upon the job's responsibilities and its hierarchy within the organization. A range is created around each job grade and performance dictates how quickly staff advance through each grade. The full board of directors reviews the President's performance and provides written feedback to the consultant. The consultant makes a formal presentation to the Executive Committee each year, during which the compensation strategy, benchmarks, and salary recommendations are discussed. Following that presentation, the consultant meets with the executive committee in a closed session, without the presence of staff to discuss the results of the President's performance review, the salary benchmarks for the ABP President and the physician Vice Presidents along with his recommendations for salary adjustments for these positions. The committee determines whether to approve the proposed changes. These decisions are recorded in the minutes of the meeting, which are then forwarded to the CFO for implementation.
